PROJECTS

PantryPal | React, Cohere AI, Flask

March - May 2023

- Developed and designed PantryPal, an AI-powered kitchen helper website.
- Created a seamless user experience by integrating a search feature to generate recipe suggestions based on user-inputted ingredients, calorie range, and cultural preferences.
- Implemented a functional back end using Flask, and a dynamic front end with React.

Health Policy Student Association | HTML/CSS, Javascript, Flask

February - March 2023

- Worked collaboratively with another developer to build a website for the Health Policy Student Association at McMaster University.
- Employed HTML/CSS and JavaScript to create an engaging, interactive user interface.
- Developed and implemented an email submission system using Flask.
- Ensured the website's layout was responsive and optimized for all devices.

League of Legends Webscraper | Python, BeautifulSoup, Matplotlib

January 2022

- Utilized BeautifulSoup to extract player stats from websites such as OP.GG and LeagueOfGraphs.com from a database of over 27 million players across 16 regions.
- Developed pie graphs using Matplotlib to visually represent champion mastery distribution.

Rizzify | Python, Cohere AI

May 2023

- Made a bot with a trained version of Cohere AI using a dataset of over 100 quotes to mimic the speaking patterns of 3 characters. Used Disnake.py to allow Discord users to interact with the bot.
- Was made as a submission for MetHacks 2023.
